Classifications of Membership

The Association has established the following classifications of individual membership.

Practitioner Membership is granted to those who have demonstrated through education, experience, and/or other criteria that they meet the qualifications to apply for the designation of Certified Valuation Analyst (CVA).

Practitioner Membership carries with it all the rights, privileges, and benefits offered by the Association, and is required for those holding active designations.

Professional Membership is extended to those individuals who may not qualify for or do not desire or intend to pursue certification. However, they recognize the value of membership and ideals of the Association and, as such, wish to show their support by joining. Professional members have the same rights, privileges, and benefits as Practitioner members. However, Professional members may not apply for certification and may not use the Association's appellations.

Academic Membership is offered to academicians employed full-time by a college or university and desirous of the services and privileges of Association membership. Academic members recognize the important contributions the Association is making in the valuation and financial forensic sciences and want to show their support through membership and contributions of intellectual capital. Academic members enjoy all Association benefits and can apply for EACVA's / NACVA's certifications as long as they meet its requirements.
